

Policy on collecting children from the School

When children are handed over to staff at school, the school acts “in loco parentis”, that is, in place of the parents. The school takes responsibility for the safety and well-being throughout the time they are with the school. Staff at school would not be acting in the best interest of the child if they were to hand children over for collection either to someone whom they didn't recognise, or who was not an adult.

We expect that parents or carers will always inform us when someone other than their usual collector will be picking the child up.

We ask parents for the name and request the person brings photographic proof of identity such as a passport or driving licence.

Where we are unsatisfied that we know who is collecting the child, we will not allow the child to go until we have made contact with the family.

We NEVER allow the child to be collected by a person under the age of 16.

We will only allow a person under the age of 18 (unless it is the parent themselves) to collect a child if we have the parent/carer's written permission. Forms are available in school for this.

We inform parents of this policy at the beginning of the school year or when a child joins the school.

We do not seek to make life difficult or awkward for parents and we always do our best to accommodate emergencies. However we ensure the safety, security and well-being of the children as our priority.

Parents who wish another adult to collect their children from school on a regular basis are asked to fill in an Authorisation to Collect Children from School Form and supply names and photos of the authorised person, the school will then make a photo-card identification panel. These forms are given to parents each September or on request.

Uncollected childPOLICY STATEMENT

In the event that a child is not collected by an authorised adult at the end of a session/day, the setting puts into practice agreed procedures. These ensure the child is cared for safely by an experienced and qualified practitioner who is known to the child. We will ensure that the child receives a high standard of care in order to cause as little distress as possible.

We inform parents/carers of our procedures so that, if they are unavoidably delayed, they will be reassured that their children will be properly cared for.

PROCEDURES

Parents of children starting at the setting are asked to provide the following specific information which is recorded on our Registration Form:

- Home address and telephone number - if the parents do not have a telephone, an alternative number must be given, perhaps a neighbour or close relative.
- Work telephone number (if applicable).
- Mobile telephone number (if applicable).
- Names, addresses, telephone numbers and signatures of adults who are authorised by the parents to collect their child from the setting, for example a child-minder or grandparent.
- Who has parental responsibility for the child.
- Information about any person who does not have legal access to the child.

On occasions when parents are aware that they will not be at home or in their usual place of work, they inform us of how they can be contacted.

On occasions when parents or the persons normally authorised to collect the child are not able to collect the child, they provide us with written details of the name, address and telephone number of the person who will be collecting their child. We agree with parents how to verify the identity of the person who is to collect their child.

Parents are informed that if they are not able to collect the child as planned, they must inform us so that we can begin to take back-up measures. We provide parents with our contact telephone number.

IF A CHILD IS NOT COLLECTED AT THE END OF THE SESSION/DAY, WE FOLLOW THE FOLLOWING PROCEDURES:

- The child's file is checked for any information about changes to the normal collection routines.
- If no information is available, parents/carers are contacted at home or at work.
- If this is unsuccessful, the adults who are authorised by the parents to collect their child from the setting – and whose telephone numbers are recorded on the Registration Form – are contacted.
- All reasonable attempts are made to contact the parents or nominated carers.
- The child does not leave the premises with anyone other than those named on the Registration Form or in their file.
- If no-one collects the child after one hour and there is no-one who can be contacted to collect the child, we apply the procedures for uncollected children.

We contact our local authority children's social services care team:

020 7361 3013

For full day care, this will be the out of hours duty officer:

020 7373 2227

The child stays at setting in the care of two members of staff and or school owner until the child is safely collected either by the parents or by a social care worker.

Social Care will aim to find the parent or relative if they are unable to do so, the child will become looked after by the local authority.

Under no circumstances do staff go to look for the parent, nor do they take the child home with them.

A full written report of the incident is recorded in the child's file.

Under the influence of alcohol or drugs

Parents under the influence of alcohol or drugs will NOT be permitted to collect their child to ensure their child's safety. Staff may call the police 999 or RBKC Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO): 07792597181 or RBKC Duty & emergency Team on 0207 373 2227.

Missing childPOLICY STATEMENT

Children's safety is maintained as the highest priority at all times both on and off premises. Every attempt is made through carrying out the outings procedure and the exit/entrance procedure to ensure the security of children is maintained at all times. In the unlikely event of a child going missing, our missing child procedure is as follow.

EYFS key themes and commitments

A Unique Child	Positive Relationships	Enabling Environments	Learning and Development
1.3. Keeping safe 1.4. Health and well-being	2.2. Parents as partners	3.4. The wider context

1. Child going missing on the premises

As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing the key person/staff alerts an on-site member of the senior management team.

The member of the senior management team and or other staff will carry out a thorough search of the building and grounds.

The register is checked to make sure no other child has also gone astray.

Doors and gates are checked to see if there has been a breach of security whereby a child could wanderout.

If the child is not found, the parent is contacted and the missing child is reported to the police.

The member of the senior management team talks to the staff to find out when and where the child was last seen and records this (missing child report form).

The member of the senior management team contacts the school owner and reports the incident. The owner then carries out an investigation and may come to the setting immediately if not on the premises.

2. Child going missing on an outdoor visit

This describes what to do when staff have taken a small group on an outing, leaving the members of the senior management team and/or other staff back in the setting. If member of the senior management team has accompanied children on the outing, the procedures are adjusted accordingly.

What to do when a child goes missing when their parent has accompanied the outing may be a little different, as parents usually are responsible for their own child.

As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, staff on the outing ask children to stand with their designated person and carry out a headcount to ensure that no other child has gone astray. One staff member searches the immediate vicinity but does not search beyond that.

The setting senior management team is contacted immediately and the incident is reported.

The member of the senior management team contacts the police and reports the child as missing.

The senior management team member contacts the parent, who makes their way to the setting or outing venue as agreed with the setting leader. The setting is advised as the best place, as by the time the parent arrives, the child may have been returned to the setting.

Staff takes the remaining children back to the setting.

In an indoor venue, a member of staff contacts the venue's security who will handle the search and contact the police if the child is not found.

The setting leader contacts the school owner and the Local Authority and OFSTED (Helpline: 0300 123 1231) and reports the incident.

Local Authority guidelines take priority.

a. The investigation

Staff members keep calm and do not let the other children become anxious or worried. The senior manager together with the Local Authority and if possible the owner of the school speak with the parent(s).

The LA carries out a full investigation taking written statements from all the staff in the room or who were on the outing.

The key person/staff member writes an incident report detailing:

- The date and time of the report.
- What staff/children were in the group/outing and the name of the staff designated responsible for the missing child.
- When the child was last seen in the group/outing.
- What has taken place in the group or outing since the child went missing.
- The time it is estimated that the child went missing.

A conclusion is drawn as to how the breach of security happened.

If the incident warrants a police investigation, all staff co-operate fully. In this case, the police will handle all aspects of the investigation: including interviewing staff. Children's Social Care may be involved if it seems likely that there is a child protection issue to address.

The incident is reported under RIDDOR arrangements; see the Reporting of Accidents and Incidents policy:

<https://extranet.hse.gov.uk/lfserver/external/F2508DOE>.

The local authority Health and Safety Officer may want to investigate and will decide if there is a case for prosecution.

In the event of disciplinary action needing to be taken, Ofsted is informed through the LA.

The insurance provider is informed through the LA.

b. Managing people

Missing child incidents are very worrying for all concerned. Part of managing the incident is to try to keep everyone as calm as possible.

The staff will feel worried about the child, especially the key person or the designated carer responsible for the safety of that child for the outing. They may blame themselves and their feelings of anxiety and distress will rise as the length of time the child is missing increases. Staff may be the understandable target of parental anger and they may be afraid. Setting leaders need to ensure that staff under investigation are not only fairly treated but receive support while feeling vulnerable.

The parents will feel angry, and fraught. They may want to blame staff and may single out one staff member over others; they may direct their anger at the setting leader. When dealing with a distraught and angry parent, there should always be two members of staff, one of whom is the setting leader and the other should be the School owner or LA representative. No matter how understandable the parent's anger may be, aggression or threats against staff are not tolerated, and the police should be called.

The other children are also sensitive to what is going on around them. They too may be worried. The remaining staff caring for them need to be focused on their needs and must not discuss the incident in front of them. They should answer children's questions honestly but also reassure them.

In accordance with the severity of the final outcome, staff may need counselling and support. If a child is not found, or is injured, or worse, this will be a very difficult time. The chairperson or proprietor will use their discretion to decide what action to take
